BACKSTORY

Moe's Wacky Adventure starts off in the peaceful town of Okar. Moe spends his days studying the martial arts and perfecting his weaponry mastery. His most prized possession is the Sword of Okar, which has the power to wipe out evil in a single swipe. However Moe is ignorant of the power that this sword possesses. Yet this power has been sought after for years by the evil Lord Zurock who resides in the Okari Mountains that overlook Okar.

One night, Moe forgets his 3rd year anniversary with Megan due to his intense training. She forces him to sleep on the couch, away from her and his sword. Around the same time, Lord Zurock, who has been waiting for such an opportunity, sends in his Goblin followers to abduct the sword. As the Goblins break in, Megan wakes up to find her room being stormed. Moe, on the couch still, sleeps through this entire ordeal due to a long day of training. Megan grabs hold of the sword and refuses to let go, and tries to fight them off. However the Goblins surrounded her and took her and the sword back up the mountains to Zurock.

When Moe awakes he finds his house raided, Megan was missing, and his sword was nowhere to be found. He notices slimy footprints all over the house, footprints that could only belong to the slimy minions of Lord Zurock. He knows that he must set out on journey to the Okari Mountains to save his two loves, his sword and girlfriend... but mainly his sword.
